

Thomas Defranceschi

東京都中野区

✉ 070 8391 9521 • ✉ tho.defranceschi@gmail.com

Profile

International secondary school educator specializing in Computer Science, with experience teaching Cambridge IGCSE and AS/A Level students. Strong background in mathematics and scientific reasoning, with a modern, student-centered and project-based teaching approach. Experienced in assessment, exam preparation, and cross-cultural school environments. Native French speaker, fluent in English, with working Japanese (JLPT N3; studying toward N2).

Education

University of Nice Bachelor's Degree in Mathematics	Nice 2015–2016
University of Paris Master of Teaching (MEEF – Year 1) Secondary education track in mathematics and sciences.	Paris 2021–2022

Teaching Experience

Musashi International School Tokyo (MIST) Middle & High School Computer Science Substitute Teacher	Tokyo Oct 2025 – Jan 2026
Taught Junior High School and Cambridge IGCSE and AS/A Level Computer Science. Delivered Cambridge-aligned curriculum, planned and assessed lessons, prepared students for examinations, and implemented project-based learning. Participated in grading, reporting, pastoral support, and school events; recognized for strong organizational skills and appointed as security officer during major school events.
Ani's Place English & French Teacher	Tokyo Since June 2023
Designed and delivered group and private lessons for children (ages 4–16) and adults; contributed to curriculum design and individualized learning plans.
Classes de Français French Instructor	Tokyo Sep 2022 – Aug 2023
Taught small-group classes for adult learners using the Gattegno method, focusing on pronunciation, structure, and learner autonomy.
Acadomia Private Tutor	Nice Sep – Dec 2017
CRPS Bousquet Private School Mathematics Substitute Teacher	Nice Sep – Dec 2017

Other Experience

La Cité des Jeunes Activity Leader and Camp Director	France 2010–2014
Led and coordinated summer programs for children and teenagers aged 6–17; developed leadership, safeguarding, and organizational skills.	